The Samuel J. Randall Association of Philadelphia has changed its name and adopted resolutions denouncing Congressman Samuel J. Randall for his opposition to the Morrison Tariff Bill. The resolutions claim that he has shown himself recreant to his trust and unworthy to represent the Democracy of the Third Congressional District, the press of that District also denounces him.

We suppose the wedding of President Cleveland to Miss Folsom took place yesterday evening at the White House. At least, it was officially announced that they would be married at that time by the Rev. Dr. Sunderland. Nobody but the President's official family and a few personal friends of the couple were expected to be present.

Mason county will vote on the 12th of June on a proposition to subscribe $50,000 to the capital stock of the Maysville & Big Sandy Railroad Company, which is to build a road from Cincinnati to Ashland. This sum is to be used in securing the right of way for the railroad, and it is thought the proposition will prevail by a large majority.

The following is an extract from the letter which speaker Carlisle wrote to the mass meeting of workingmen that met in Philadelphia Saturday to demand the reduction of the tariff:

"By the use of superior machinery in most of our mechanical industries, and the employment of the most intelligent and productive labor in all of them, we possess advantages over other countries which would enable us to compete successfully with them in all parts of the world, if it were not for the artificial restraints and burdens which our own and unwise legislation has imposed upon us. Under this legislation, which adds nothing to the wages of labor, the cost of production has been so largely increased that we are substantially excluded from every market except our own, and, therefore, as soon as that is fully supplied our mills and factories must stop and their employes must live on their past earnings or go in debt."

It is estimated that 10,000 persons attended an Irish Home-rule meeting in Chicago last evening. Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, presided, while the Vice Presidential list included among the present and absent, judges, Congressmen, ministers of all denominations, and men prominent in all walks of life.—Courier Journal.

Several of the leading journals of the country are having a great deal to say about the alleged scandalous scheme of "Kentucky spots" Democrats to defeat Speaker Carlisle's re-election to Congress. Our esteemed contemporaries need not worry themselves about this. There is no such scheme outside a disgruntled politician or two at Covington. Mr. Carlisle is appreciated nowhere better than in Kentucky, and there is no office within the gift of the State which he could not set for the asking.—Courier Journal.

For Instant Use

As a reliable remedy, in cases of Croup,

Whooping Cough, or sudden Colds, and for the prompt relief and cure of throat and lung disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is invaluable. Mrs. E. G. Edgerton,

Council Bluffs, Iowa, writes: "I consider

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy for home use. I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affection of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults." John H. Stoddard, Petersburg, Va., writes: "I have never found a medicine equal to

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

for the prompt relief of throat and lung diseases peculiar to children. I consider it an absolute cure for all such affections, and am never without it in the house."

Mrs. L. E. Herman, 357 Mercer st., Jersey

City, writes: "I have always found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral useful in my family," etc. B. T. Johnson, Mrs. Savage, Md., writes: "For the speedy cure of sudden Colds, and for the relief of children afflicted with Croup, I have never found anything equal to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It is the most potent of all the remedies I have ever used." W. H. Sticker, Terra Haute, Ind., writes: "Ayer's Cherry

Pectoral cured my wife of a severe lung affection, supposed to be Quaker Consumption. We now regard the Pectoral as a household necessity." E. M. Breckenridge, Brainerd, Minn., writes: "I am subject to Bronchitis, and, wherever I go, am always sure to have a bottle of the Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with me."

It is a complete cure for all such affections. PREPARED BY DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS.
